Commenting on Osceola School District's Social Networks Sites

All Osceola School District social media sites are monitored on a continuous basis for comments deemed inappropriate. These posts may be removed. Please keep the following in mind when commenting on the sites:

- Comments should not be obscene in nature or serve as an attack against any person or group.
- Comments should not promote illegal activity or violate copyright law.
- Comments should not promote the violation of school rules or substantial disruption of any school's orderly operation.
- Comments should not promote or oppose any person or party. Comments should not promote or oppose any person campaigning for election to a political office or promote or oppose any ballot proposition.
- Comments should not promote services or companies.
- All comments should relate directly to the topic of the site. We expect that participants will treat each other with respect.
- All comments and postings are subject to Florida's broad public records laws.
- All posts are subject to the Terms of Service of the host site. For more information, consult the host website's Terms of Service.
- This policy may be amended or modified at any time.

While discussions are encouraged, please contact Dana Schafer, the district's Public Information Officer, at schaferd@osceola.k12.fl.us with complaints or questions in order to ensure timely resolution. You may also call the Osceola School District's Community Relations Office at 407-870-4007.
